

www.yoga-intervision.com

what is needed now universal declaration of existence whereas the world needs to be protected against robbery by mankind, whereas the universal declaration of human rights, anthropocentric as it is, falls short for that, whereas because of that an ecocentric all life embracing ideology is needed now, now therefore I proclaim that whole existence, all sentient beings, flora and fauna, do have the inherent right to exist, the right to live according to their nature, in the habitats and niches they are adapted to, and that, because of that, exploitation in any form, raising them for consumption, holding them in prison, and the like, is forbidden, considering that the same goes for all other living entities, such as rivers, mountains, forests, lakes and so on, the earth, the soil, the sea, the air, the kosmos, knowing all of them as equally important, I furthermore proclaim, that, because of that, all human beings, collectively as well individually, have to care for the undisturbed ongoing co-existence of all living beings, living entities as well, as mentioned before, being the inherent, first duty of mankind, if necessary renouncing self-interests for that, proclaiming finally that this declaration prevails the universal declaration of human rights, ending my declaration with the sincere wish all of this will meet worldwide support

anthony draaisma

zeist pentecôte 2022

this declaration is grounded on as well the expression of www.yoga-intervision.com/pdf/beyond-time-and-space.pdf it follows the same format as the preamble from the universal declaration of human rights - its compactness challenges the reader to examine exactly what is said as well as assumed - finding own words for all of that for my fear not having seen what I should have seen, which fear is gone now, see www.yoga-intervision.com/pdf/fear.pdf the specific origin of the universal declaration of existence you will find in part 4 of 'ukraine, how to understand' see www.yoga-intervision.com/pdf/ukraine.pdf

www.yoga-intervision.com